JR. VOL TOSSERS LOSE FIRST TILT OF 1935-36 SEASON

Granthamites Drop Melee To Sunflower Aggies, Then Top Delta State

LOSS IS FIRST GAME IN TEN Large Crowd Anticipated When Aggies Return Game On Local Court

After bowling over their opposition for ten straight games, The University of Tennessee Junior Vol engers dropped number eleven to their old nemesis, the Sunflower Miss Aggies. The score was 11-25.

In a short wire report to The Volette, Coach H. K. Grantham disclosed that following the Aggie defeat, the Junior Vols turned the tables and smashed the Delta State Greenies to the tune of 50-31.

The Granthamites have been playing a stellar brand of basketball this season and have rung up a total of 601 points for the season for a game average of a fraction over 50 points. Notable in the drive for hardwood fame has been the outstanding work of Captain "Fuzzy" Shankle, Sugg Keiser, and "Spence" Roberts. This trio of stars have rung up nearly 300 of the total points for the season, offset by the stellar performances of Lloyd Vaughn, Lem Green and Roy Green.

Local officials anticipate one of the largest crowds of local basketball history when the Aggies come here to meet the Junior Vols in a return game.

The Delta Vols met the strong Delta State Greenies late Wednesday night and the Austin Peay boys were expected to make their appearance in the day game an interesting game.

The Vol engers met the Saturday night Delta State Greenies with the same spirit. The game ended in a typical Delta State victory, 11-25.

JUNIOR VOLS WIN OVER LAMBUTH FIVE, SCORING 40 POINTS

Return in Second Half to Feature Shankle's Shooting and Score Triumph

The University of Tennessee Junior Vols won their most highly prized victory of the season on the night of January 21 when they defeated the Mississippi Valley Conference champions, Lambuth College, of Jackson, by a 40-33 score.

The Junior Vols held their own the first half of the game and then went on to outplay their rivals the second half as Captain Shankle began hitting the hoop from all angles.

Lambuth showed the fastest team played by the Junior Vols and are sure to be ready to avenge their defeat when UTJC invades their stronghold February 14. The Vols have improved since the Lambuth contest, and this game should be the feature attraction of the Mississippi Valley season.

Winfred DeShazo, star guard of the champions, lived up to his reputation as one of the best players in this section as he looped in five goals from the middle of the floor and played a bang-up defense game. Matthews and Britts were the other stars for Lambuth.

Captain Shankle played his best game of the season, starting on offense and defense. The rest of the Vol squad played good ball and picking out a star would do an injustice to the rest of the team.

MAJOR BOB NEYLAND RETURNS TO U. T. FOR COACHING JOB

Resigns Army Position To Boss Vols; Scheduled To Arrive This Week

KNOXVILLE Major Robert Neyland is returning to the University of Tennessee to resume his duties as football coach. Neyland resigned his position with the army following an offer from U. T. and the War Department has announced that his application for retirement has been accepted.

Major Neyland was scheduled to leave his station in Panama Saturday and is expected to arrive in Knoxville late this week, where he is to sign a five-year contract with University officials. The coach and the University reached a salary agreement a month ago, but signing was withheld until the Major had asked and been granted his retirement from the army.

Neyland is expected to select his corps of assistant coaches soon after he takes up his work. Bill Britton, head coach of the Vols last season, has been retained along with Paul B. Parker, athletic director, who will act as line coach. However, it is thought that Parker may resign to accept a position at Mississippi State University.

The retirement of "Major Bob" became effective January 25 under an amended law provision permitting officers with more than fifteen years' service to leave the army on a pension somewhat less than full retired pay.

Neyland was graduated from military academy in 1916 and has been in governmental service 23 years. During his training at West Point, he won the academy's silver saber for athletic superiority, starring as a baseball pitcher and as an end in football.

His home is in Greenville, Texas.

SCRIBBLERS MAKE NEESE PRESIDENT

Charles Neese was elected president of the Scribblers' Club at its initial meeting held in the Administration Building last week. Other officers chosen were: Paul Pogue, vice president; Nell Terry, secretary; Charles Stratton, reporter; and Charles Stratton, reporter.

The club was organized under the supervision of Harry Harrison Kroll, editor and UTJC English instructor, who was a former professor of journalism at Iowa Wesleyan College. Mr. Kroll has organized it several times with successful results.

At the meeting of the club last Wednesday night, a constitution was adopted by the body by unanimous vote. The club will meet weekly at 7:30 p. m. in the UTJC gym.

The object of the club is to give the members an opportunity to express their views on current events and to give them a chance to express their views on current events.

BROWN, FRESHMAN, ESTELLE BAILEY ARE WINNERS IN VOTING

Close Race For Two Offices—Miss Bailey Leads In Majorities

ONE FRESHMAN WINS

Studes Scratch Ticket, To Result In Split Outcome of Contest

Markey Luttrell, popular captain of the 1935 Junior Vols, was elected president of the All-Students' Club at a meeting held on January 24. Jack Brown, freshman, was named vice-president of the organization, and Estelle Bailey was chosen secretary and treasurer.

The races were somewhat close, especially that for president, which was kept in doubt almost until the final vote was tallied. Miss Bailey led the ticket, receiving a substantial majority.

The sophomore ticket was composed of Luttrell, James Bramham, and Miss Bailey, while the freshman nominating committee named Sugg Keiser, Brown, and Cora Helen Rice as candidates. Ticket-scratching led to a majority vote for the sophomore ticket, the first yearmen electing only one candidate.

Figures on the voting were not released publicly by R. G. Turner, faculty sponsor of the club, although individuals desiring to see them may do so if they wish.

Officials of the two classes served on the nominating committees, with two additional members of each class also serving. Sophomore class committee members were:

mittee members were Melba McLean and Jun Bushart, and freshmen who served as nominators were Charles Neese and Tom Flake.

Luttrell succeeds Hal McAdams as president of the student body. McAdams failing to return to the Junior College for the winter quarter, while Jack Brown succeeds James Hughes, who also failed to return.

During the fall quarter the office of secretary-treasurer was not filled due to the failure of June May, who was elected last spring, to return to the campus.

Luttrell is a graduate of High School in Knoxville, where he was a football star and a member of the student body. He is a member of the student body.

DEAN HOSKINS ASSURANCE

Dean Hoskins promises a need ed improvement for U.T.C. in his address to the student body two weeks ago.

Not only did he assure us that he will get sidewalks on the campus as soon as possible, but he added that the Administration building, the only blot on the campus landscape, will be greatly improved.

We pause to wonder about original specifications for the campus, which we understand provided for the construction of a new Administration building in the space between the circular drive ways west of the present
north building.

That together with paved sidewalks and driveways makes up the missing links in U.T.C.'s campus.

OLD FASHIONED WEATHER

The old timers who have been deceiving the fact that the old-fashioned hard winter no longer exists have lately been ruled down by Mother Nature.

Bitter cold has been giving heating plant employees trouble for two weeks now. The times honored congregations on the campus are now held in building halls or in the dormitories.

A member of the UTJC faculty has expressed the opinion that a cold winter improves health as well as other conditions. If it does, we pity the poor doctor and prescriptionist.

BETTER TEACHERS

A reaction to policies of employing elementary and high school teachers simply on the basis of credits received rather than on ability has set up.

This is to be expected. No adult can send out youngsters unprepared to take up life's duties simply because its teachers are equipped with a deskful of degrees and college credits.

The ability to teach is something of a natural gift which can be improved with proper instruction in teaching methods. One who is not a born teacher, who cannot speak in a voice which attracts attention, who has no understanding of the problems of teaching, is absolutely no business standing before a roomful of American young people.

We agree that compensations
for Tennessee teachers are not what they should be. Neither are many of the teachers.

Fred Astaire is a proud papa
now. It will be unique tap dancing the floor with an heir in his arms.

We've suddenly arrived at one conclusion. The tendency is for all amateur musicians to play exactly like amateur musicians.

POLITICS FLARING

The college student, as a rule,
is not a voter, but he often takes strong interest in politics.

If one likes politics, he's in for a wonderful time from now until late in the fall.

Reaction to the New Deal has springing up. No one knows what the Republican party will do, but Alfred E. Smith, the democrat of brown derby fame, made a scorching anti-Roosevelt speech to the Liberty League in Washington the other day.

The administration says it meant nothing. The Republicans won't say anything yet. Mr. Average Citizen doesn't really know what to say, but he's still doing plenty of talking.

Getting out a newspaper is no
picnic.

If we print jokes, they say
we're silly.

If we don't, we're too serious.
If original matter is printed,
we lack variety.

If we publish clipped stuff,
we're lazy.

If we're out rustling up news,
we're wasting time.

If we aren't rustling news,
we're not attending to business.

If we don't print contributions,
we lack appreciation.

If we do, the paper is full of junk.

Like as not somebody'll say we swiped this from another paper.
So we did!

A woman in Newark was granted a divorce decree by the court because hubby hid her arrival molar. You can't always say that American justice doesn't have teeth in it.

A GREAT FUNERAL

By CHARLES WILLIAMS

On January 28, 1936, if one had the energy to arise at that small hour of 3:30 a.m., he could have heard the funeral of George V., one of England's best-loved kings.

The chimes made one think of Tolstoy's version: "Life is a slumber; Death is the awakening." For it certainly must be an enlightening when the soul is protected from this earth to that celestial place with such wonderful, heavenly music. Anything so beautiful must be heavenly.

The listener could see the sun creeping peeking through the clouds, not to halt until it had made diamonds with the rain which glistened beautifully on the spires of St. George's Chapel.

Surely, it must have been a wonderful sight. But not to those Englishmen, for the world certainly looks yellow to a jaundiced eye, and their eyes were those of sadness.

This young king who stood watch at his father's bier; what thoughts must have been racing through his mind? The new king of one of the world's greatest empires!

His job is not a facile one, nor was his father's. Is it not altogether fitting that such good kings (in sooth, good men)
should have such a funeral depicting an illustrious service to mankind?

HARDESTY PLAYS, ENTERTAINS UTJC ASSEMBLY FRIDAY

A Hardesty, master violinist, accompanied by his wife at the piano, entertained the student body and a few visitors in assembly at 1:00 o'clock Friday.

His program consisted of novelty
and trick numbers, popular music,
and a few classical selections. UTJC students proved an apparently appreciative audience.

Hardesty was recommended to the school by Mr. Otis Parrish, director of the school orchestra. Mrs. Hardesty is the former Virginia Oliver, formerly of this city.

pounds and can be heard at distance
up to four miles. . . . A cold snap
what is a cold snap has been running UTJCers indoors for the past several days. . . . Louisiana politics has been hit again, this time with the sudden death of O. K. Allen, recently elected to fill the late Huey P. Long's shoes. . . . Hell, Michigan. . . . The next day, Paradise, Ky., also announced
it on its streets. . . .

Bob Neyland has resigned his army job to join Big U. T. as coach, you'll see in more detail elsewhere in this issue. . . . Future Volettes will be distributed in West Tennessee high schools. . . . Which reminds us: it's midnight oil for the staff to get the issue out on time. . . . However, this one should actually be early. . . . Mr.
Kroll's Scribbler's Club apparently has some talent. . . . Ruben (Sugar Tree II) Franks has already sold an article to a church publication. . . .
Joe E. Brown, lover of baseball that he is, is often bothered by imposters who claim they are Dizzy Dean, Babe Ruth, or somebody. . . . He carries around his double to spot them out. . . .
And a girl who is in Hollywood now has lived in every state in the Union
except Rhode Island. . . .

Sioux City clothing merchants have reported that they are selling long underwear as they haven't for years on end. . . . Moscow scientists are also reported to have revived frozen insects which have been buried for thousands of years. . . . Which two items haven't any connection whatever as the English department will no doubt note. . . . A move for voluntary reduction of tobacco acreage is on foot in Washington. . . . California's Governor Meriam is getting married soon. . . . Congrats, by the way, to Bursar Stanford and the Mrs. . . .
Mid-terms are upon us, a statement
which is unnecessary and even uncalled for. . . . Paul Whiteman's band had to get a new theme song because "Rhapsody in Blue" can no longer be played via radio. . . . It's named "Margot". . . .

A secret, son don't tell anybody:
The staff plans a sassy society function to be held some time between now and then. . . . Attention, you doughnut-breakfast eaters (we're one of 'em):
T. H. Alexander reports that he once knew a man who ate lots of oatmeal,
eggs, sausage or ham, biscuits, waffles (with sorghum), etc., and the poor fellow died at the age of 107
after he stuck a nail in his foot! . . .
We understand that the "Bachelor's Paradise" felas are functioning even better than was anticipated. . . . Officers have been elected and things are clicking scrumptiously. . . . Photographers Emerson Smith and Paul Pigue are keeping themselves occupied during the snowy weather. . . .
It's always pitying that we observe two or so last-minute stragglers in zoo lectures clamber up to the "roost". . . .

the campus: Hal McAdams, W. T.

KATIE'S KEYHOLE COLUMN

Due to the temperature of below-below—below-w-oo—we have no hot scandal to bring to you this week.
Nevertheless—lovers of salacious
scandal, let us greet you with news
of a record making ex-junior college
stude, Thomas Ed Poyner. He rates dates with five different dormitory girls and onenon-dormitory girl last Sunday night. Now what we need to do is to discover his motive for gi-ling so many a break at the same time. We wonder how Emily, Polly, Gwendolyn, Sarah, Opal and Helen felt? . . .

Macon Byars, that new edition
from Dresden, has become quite a ladies' as well as lates' man around the campus and it is rumored that his motto is "Persistence overcomes everything" (or maybe it was perseverance.)

Up-and-coming-couples: Thomas
Faye Jones and Louise McClain, Woodrow Roberts and Mildred Der-ryberry, Billy Portis and "Madame Queen"—others that won't bear mention.

Adding to the spirit of imprisonment—several of the dorm girls started wearing stripes. (Striped socks, however.)

At last we have found out who the lucky gentlemen are that Ernestine
Hay and Erlene Uile give a ring
nearly every night and it is none other than Fred Long and one of the Vaughn boys. . . .

CUMBERLAND IS VICTIM IS EASY TILT TUESDAY P.M.

The Junior Vols continued their scoring spree last Tuesday night as they swamped an outclassed Cumberland University five by a 53-19 score. The Junior Vols jumped into an early lead and never relinquished it as they scored and passed at will to victory.

Coach Grantham used his second and third string team most of the game and in the final quarter sent in a team led by Roy Greeson to entertain the crowd with a dazzling and entertaining bit of passing that would have done justice to the Celtics and the Olson Swedes.

Hardeman Boys Lose To Obion

The Obion county boys emerged victorious over the Hardeman county quintet last Tuesday night in the finals of the inter-county basketball tournament by a 22-21 victory, in a close game that was hard-fought all the way.

Hardeman county's passing attack worked in the usual smooth manner that had characterized their play throughout the tournament, but they were unable to hit the loop with any degree of constancy. The Obion boys capitalized on their shots when opportunity offered itself and here was the secret of their victory.

Jack Grey, Bramham and Calhoun starred for the champions and Lee Jacobs and Jimmy Hooper showed up best for the losers.

Benton Lassies Defeat Hardeman

A strong Benton county sextet defeated the Weakley county girls in the finals of the girls' inter-county basketball tournament in the preliminary to the U. T.-David Lipscomb contest by a 36-22 score.

The Benton countians jumped into an early lead and held it until the end of the game, although the local county threatened at intervals. The game was featured by some neat pass work by both sides and some excellent goal shooting by the winners. Rough play disqualified four players.

Harris, Thompson and Utley starred in the champions' win, and Barton, Ingram, and Littrell played best for Weakley.

THE CENTER-JUMP QUESTION

There is talk within the cage circles of abolishing the center-jump, thus eliminating the distinct advantage of an elongated basketeer over his shorter opponent in the center ring.

Joe Lapchick, Dutch Derhart, and Nat Holman, recognized as probably the greatest basketball player in the game's history and present C. C. N. Y. coach, and other great players, are unanimous in their belief that the center-jump will be eliminated at the next meeting of the basketball officials and coaches.

On the other hand, nearly every man believes that if the jump is eliminated, it will hurt the fast-breaking offense used by most teams, but it will also turn the game into a scoring spree, no matter the caliber of the teams playing. Every team will turn its attention to offense as it is assured possession of the ball at least half the time under the proposed ruling.

Elimination of the tip-off has proven a success in the girls' game, but it remains to be seen what effect it will have on the boys' contest.

THE SCORING TRIPLETS

Football teams have their touchdown twins, but the Junior Vol quintet comes forward with the announcement of the prowess of their wicker smashing trio of Captain "Fuzzy" Shankle, genial Sugg Keiser, and the accurate-shooting "Square" Roberts, a crew that has added together 265 points of the amazing total of 523 that the Junior Vols have run up in 10 games.

Roberts is paving the way with 94 points, followed by Captain Shankle with 89 and Keiser with 82. Square has found the hoop for most of his points under the goal, being the best man on the squad under the basket and at following up a shot. Sugg, playing the best ball of his career, has angled in most of his shots from around the foul line, but has a knack for sinking crisp shots anywhere.

Captain Shankle, former all-West Tennessee star and Mississippi Valley forward, has proved to be the sparkplug of the Junior Vol quintet this year. "Fuzzy" has given much attention to his defensive work this year and has left the offensive burden to his fellow teammates, but he has come through in fine fashion when the occasion demands and is probably the surest shot on the squad under fire.

DEFENSIVE SIDE OF THE QUESTION

While the offensive play of the Vols has taken away some of the glamor of the defensive genius of the Junior Vol guards, the defensive play of the Orange and White has been entirely satisfactory.

Lloyd Vaughn, mentioned for all-conference honors last fall, is recognized as one of the best guards in the conference and is outstanding candidate for all-conference honors due to his scrappiness and close defensive play. Vaughn has several times overrun his man, only to recover in time to keep his rival from shooting.

"Peanut" Grieson and "Pie Face" Greer, ball handlers de luxe, have proved to be the most colorful members of the squad and have shown enough ability to be ranked as regulars.

"Mike" Richmond and Fred Long have proved to be excellent reserves with a good chance of stepping in the starting lineup anytime.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Spring football practice has been scheduled to start around the middle of March, according to Head Coach Everett Derryberry. The Junior Vols should experience another successful season with the help of some capable reserves from the incoming Freshmen.

Coach Derryberry will have an A-1 backfield to start, having a foursome that can block, run, kick and pass and he has some experienced and capable reserves to step in any vacant spot that might open.

The terminal positions will be occupied by lettermen. Zaracar will be the only returning tackle and this position looms as the big gap in the forward wall. The guards will be light, but fast and scrappy with a fair amount of experience. The pivot position may be filled by Landon White, only returning center candidate, if he decides to return for another year.

On the Freshman material hangs the fate of the Junior Vols, and it must have a fair amount of brawn with the necessary brains.

RISE OF VOLLEYBALL

The Physical Education department starts this week with a sport that is sweeping the South in popularity and promises to rival basketball as a winter drawing card. Volleyball has already proven to be the most popular sport in the community centers of the large cities and last year a state tournament was held, and this year, Tennessee is expected to have a team in both the Southern and National tournaments.

Naturally, the game here will be carried on a moderate scale, but we have an excellent opportunity of helping the advancement of the sport in this territory.

AG NOTES

Plans are under way for the annual district FFA judging meeting to be held at UTJC sometime in March.

The food and farm show is being planned for some date early in the spring here. The exhibits at the show will contain farm implements, food displays, kitchen equipment, and the like.

Plans are being made for the Ag Club to have a Junior International Livestock Show sometime in the spring.

Each student interested will be allowed to select the type of animal he would like to display. Members of each group will then draw for the individuals to be shown and each contestant will then fit his animal and exhibit it.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners of each group.

The University is now feeding 39 beef cattle, purchased from the Dew Brothers of Sharon, on October 18.

These cattle averaged 800 pounds each on the day they were bought and they now average 1,000 pounds each on the hoof. At this rate, no animal has gained less than two pounds a day and some have averaged a gain of 3.7 pounds per day.

Credit for the remarkable record is given to a ration consisting of seven pounds of cottonseed meal, 40 pounds of silage, and all the corn stover the cattle will eat.

Swift & Company (not an advertisement) of Fulton, has been secured by UTJC to hatch 180 dozen eggs selected from pedigreed stock within the next few days.

If these chicks are sexed when a day old, only pullets will be raised; otherwise, the cockerels will be sold for broilers. The University will take over the pullets and raise them for egg production.

Each flock of chickens on the UT JC farm is under the supervision of a caretaker. Each flock is fed a well-prepared egg mash properly balanced with cod liver oil and each night are given a weighed amount of corn or as much as they will devour in fifteen minutes. In addition to all this, mash in oyster shells is kept before the hens at all times.

Daily weights of the feed given are kept and, at the end of a month, the food cost is summarized to compare with the profit with the chickens' upkeep cost.

Before the hatching season, each hen is treated for bacillary, better known as white diarrhea. This disease is inherited or passed through the egg to the young chicken, resulting in death.

LUI RING TO PRESENT VIOLIN CONCERT FRIDAY

A special school program of violin music will be presented by Lui Ring Friday, February 7th, at 1:00 p.m., in the UTJC auditorium.

The program will open with a series of novelty numbers, followed by a violin solo, portraying five scenes around a Gypsy Camp Fire. The program will consist also of a dramatic number, "Venetian Gondolier," "The Village Choir," humorous character impersonations, and a violin solo, "The Witches Dance." The final number on the program will be "Telepathophone," showing thought waves visible on sensitized plates.

The big game of the season comes on February 15, when the Vols tangle horns with the Lambuth Eagles in a return engagement.

Stanford-Hearn.

Coming as a surprise to their many friends at the college is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Verletta Hearn to Mr. Gens H. Stanford, Thursday evening, December 5th at the Rossville Methodist parsonage in Chattanooga.

Mrs. Stanford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hearn of Marshall, Oklahoma. She is a graduate of the Oklahoma College for Women, at which school she taught for three years. In 1934, she received her Master's degree from the University of Tennessee and since has taught Home Economics at the University of Tennessee Junior College.

Mr. Stanford is the well-known business manager of the Junior College, having served in this capacity since his graduation from the University in 1930.

The Stanfords plan to begin house-keeping on the first of February.

The student body joins The Volette in wishing for the newly-(discovered)-weds much success and happiness.

The first formal dinner given by the sophomore foods class was on Saturday, January 25, in the dining room of the home economics building.

The hostesses were Misses Lady B. Young, Lou Ella Hill, Kathleen Jenkins, and Mary Frances Matthews. Special guests of the evening were: Imogene McDurmond, Margaret Sander, Buelah Durham, and Estelle Bailey.

A delicious menu was served amid a color scheme of red and white.

Another dinner was given in the home economics building last Wednesday by Elizabeth Canada, Elizabeth Sparks, Doris Bolerjack, and Ruth Day.

WHOOEY, HOT PIG!

Kind-Hearted Professor Takes It Upon Himself To Revive Frozen Porker With Almost Disastrous Results

Remember way back in grade school days, when the famed Ho-Ti discovered the delicacy of roast pig by accidentally burning his fingers and putting them in his mouth, only to be astonished by the inviting taste of the animal?

And do you remember how Ho-Ti's father regularly burned down his straw house, which contained pigs, in order to enjoy this rare morsel of food?

If Ho-Ti had waited some 986 years, the discoverer of this fact would have been Prof. Ray DeMoss, UTJC faculty member. But on with the story...

The cold wave that gripped Martin and vicinity in its death-like grasp also gripped a small pig, resulting in one frozen bit of fresh pork. Chicken-hearted DeMoss, rather than see a poor, innocent little porker succumb, gathered the tiny victim in his manly arms and resolved that he, Ray DeMoss, would heroically save piggie's life.

Dashing into his first-floor office in the Administration building, DeMoss put piggie in an egg case and added an electric hot plate to increase the case temperature. Deciding that a piece of pasteboard placed in the box would reflect even more heat, Ho-Ti—we mean Ray—effected this improvement and then dashed out to more enjoyable duties.

More heat WAS obtained. The pasteboard absorbed so much heat that it curled right over Mr. Piggie's back and soon burst into flames. Soon the egg case became ignited, and Piggie doesn't live there anymore.

The aged Administration building might have burned, too, had not Executive Officer Paul Meek and his trusty office force on the second floor rushed downstairs to the scene, extinguished the fire, exterminated the pig, and covered themselves with the glory that Ho-Ti—DeMoss, darnit—sought.

But Mr. DeMoss gained the distinction of reviving the age-old method of roasting pigs.

Guests were Misses Opal Garner, Ernestine Riggs, Dorothy Barton, Mary Frances Davis, and Carolyn Swearingen of Greenfield.

A four-course menu was served, following which a social hour was enjoyed in front of a huge fireplace.

Section I, group two of the sophomore foods class entertained Saturday night, February first, with another series of formal dinners given by this class.

Hostesses of the evening were Naomi Fowler, Rachel Harris, Marie Hollaman, and Josephine Parks.

A delicious four-course dinner was served with the following as special guests: Mrs. Gene H. Stanford, Misses Martha Blount, Elizabeth Dees, and Marie Baker.

"The Town Boys" succeeded in putting over another swell nickelodeon dance. It is reported that a good time was had by all.

Group LV of the Home Economics Club, with Louise McClain as chairman, gave an interesting program on Etiquette at the meeting of the Club on Monday night, January 20.

The program included the following numbers: Etiquette on the campus, by Marie Baker; Etiquette of Dress, by Josephine Parks; Behavior on the Street, by Mary Frances Davis; and Where to Chew Gum, by Sarah Boyd.

At the conclusion of the brief business meeting conducted by the president, Josephine Parks, delicious refreshments were served.

LIGHTS OUT

The girls' dormitory was thrown into total darkness Friday night when electrical connections failed.

Studying, if any, was interrupted and candles were the sole means of illumination.

Miss Naomi Fowler is ill with influenza at the girls' dormitory.

Miss Melba McLean spent the week end at her home in Alamo, Tenn.

Miss Nina Swindler spent last week end with her parents in Newbern, Tenn.

Here's one cigarette that writes its own advertising..

It's like this—

You see I'm reading a Chesterfield advertisement and I'm smoking a Chesterfield cigarette, and all of you are smoking Chesterfields.

Now listen—Chesterfields are mild (not strong, not harsh). That's true isn't it?

Then you read "and yet they satisfy, please your taste, give you what you want in a cigarette." That says it, doesn't it?

Wait a minute—

It says now that Chesterfields have plenty of aroma and flavor. One of you go out of the room and come back. That will tell you how pleasing the aroma is.
